

MIGRATION

By Vincent Mack and Helena Huang

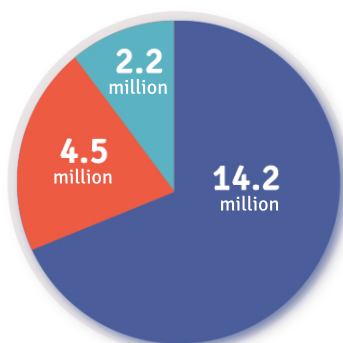

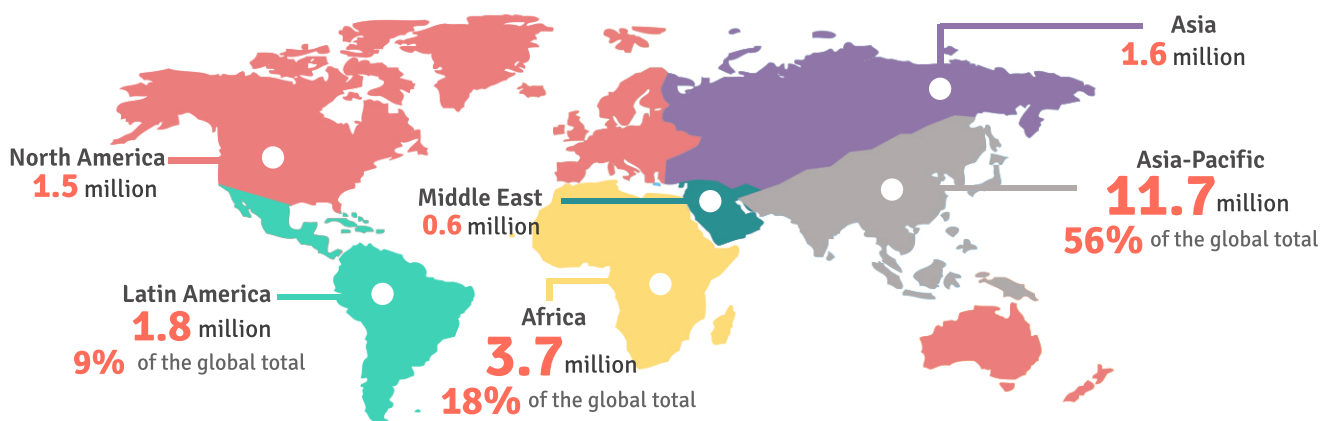

WHAT IS HUMAN TRAFFICKING?

Sources: <http://www.unodc.org/unodc/en/human-trafficking/what-is-human-trafficking.html>

STATISTICS AND INDICATORS ON FORCED LABOUR AND TRAFFICKING

Nearly 21 million people - Three out of every 1,000 people worldwide - are victims of forced labour across the world, trapped in jobs which they were coerced or deceived into and which they cannot leave.

TYPOLOGY OF FORCED LABOUR

- Forced labour exploitation in economic activities, such as agriculture, construction, domestic work or manufacturing.
- Forced sexual exploitation
- State-imposed forced labour, for example in prisons, or in work imposed by the state military or by rebel armed forces.

Sources: ILO, UNODC, GMDAC, Amnesty International