In 2023, the global humanitarian funding requirements are estimated to be US$ 51.5 billion. The gap between the requirements and the actual amounts available keeps widening, highlighting the growing financial constraint faced by the humanitarian sector.

Global Humanitarian Funding, 2017-2023 (US$ billion)

- 2017: Requirement - 10, Funding - 10
- 2018: Requirement - 20, Funding - 15
- 2019: Requirement - 30, Funding - 20
- 2020: Requirement - 40, Funding - 30
- 2021: Requirement - 50, Funding - 40
- 2022: Requirement - 60, Funding - 50
- 2023: Requirement - 70, Funding - 60

---

339 million people will need humanitarian assistance this year. Among them, 103 million are forcibly displaced, with disasters and extreme weather events causing the majority of them. 222 million across 53 countries are food insecure.

---

Source: UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs, https://www.unocha.org/

---

Tables, figures, infographics reproduced with permission.